A [illegible] WITNESS AN MURDERED

CHICAGO Sept 5—William H Downie, a member of the board of trade, was found dead in the basement of his house in LaSalle avenue to night with a bullet hole in the left temple. He was alone in the house at the time of the occurrence. From the fact that his face is powder burned and his hair scorched it was at first supposed to be suicide but closer examination of his position and the direction of the wound and the fact that no weapon could be found led to the conclusion that it was murder. He had a brother Charles J Downie with whom he had frequent altercations in regard to an undivided estate left them by their mother, these troubles leading to a separation yesterday after an unusually stormy scene and an attempt by Charles to brain his brother with an axe. This with the fact that Charles once shot at William led to the suspicion that it was a case of fratricide. They [illegible] arrested Charles [illegible] his way from the city to his suburban home and found on his person a revolver with one chamber empty

THE SEATTLE CONVENTION

Armstrong Nominated for Congress on the Thirty-first Ballot

SEATTLE Sept 5—[Special]—The territorial republican convention convened again at [illegible] o'clock this morning. Sheriff McGraw of King was appointed sergeant at arms.

The matter of refusing the admission of the Yakima delegation together with the appointment of committees occupied the time of this morning's session. After a spirited debate in which Judge Jacobs [illegible] King, Sol Smith and R O Dunbar of Klickitat and others upheld the admittance of the regular delegates, while Elwood Evans of Pierce [illegible] and a few other railroaders advocated the admittance of the railroad division of the contesting delegates. Strange to say the railroad men were admitted and the faction from Yakima headed by [illegible] W [illegible] withdrew from the hall. The audience during the whole proceeding showed themselves in sympathy with the Whitson delegation while only the railroad strikers were seen to cheer at the final consummation of the contest

The temporary organization was then made permanent and on motion of Weir of Jefferson the committee on order of business was appointed as follows: Wm McMicken of Thurston, R G Newland of Columbia, J H Lamar of Walla Walla, Allan Weir of Jefferson and Dr M Ella Whipple of Clark

On motion a committee on resolutions was appointed consisting of one member from each council district at one at large. The following constituted the committee: D B Hopkins, W Black, F A [illegible] Charles P Stiles, T H Cavanaugh, J A Perkins, J P Lewis, C F Dennis, E wood Evans, Allan Weir, Dr Calhoun, Dr Boyd and Dr Wood, the latter being committeeman at large

The convention then adjourned till 2 P M

At 2 P M the convention was called to order and the order of business committee made a report after which the convention began regular business

The first thing was the adoption of the platform which was headed with a glowing preamble of praise to the glorious republican party, which has made this one of earth's greatest nations. Then came the first resolution viz:

Resolved, That the grant of land to the Northern Pacific Railway Company for its road from Wallula Junction westward along the Columbia river so far as the same has not been constructed ought to be forfeited and restored to the public domain

They declared that they were in favor of confirming to the Northern Pacific railroad all lands legally earned by the completion of its road; they declared in favor of woman suffrage; they declared in favor of [illegible] clear the obstructions to navigation in the Columbia and Snake rivers [illegible] declared themselves in favor of the recent act of the legislature providing for the taxation of the earnings of railroads; they decided that the discrimination made by the railroad company against the people in their affairs of freight and fares is an abuse [illegible] and they [illegible] for the [illegible] of the people

After a great deal of debate the platform was adopted and the convention adjourned till 8 o'clock this evening

The evening session was called to order. The hall and galleries were packed with an enthusiastic audience

After the preliminaries the following were nominated: [illegible] of Chehalis, brigadier general; [illegible] O'Brien of Olympia, adjutant general; D B Jackson of Port Gamble, quartermaster general; and H L [illegible] of Walla Walla, commissary general

The central committee was then appointed after which the convention proceeded to the most important and the most hotly contested part of the programme namely the election of a nominee for delegate to congress

ARMSTRONG NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS

It was not until half past 12 o'clock that they chose Hon J V Armstrong on the 31st ballot. Mr [illegible] [illegible] the anti railroad [illegible] The greatest of interest was manifested by the delegates and audience [illegible] votes would oscillate first to the railroaders and then to the [illegible] men. Hats were waved, canes swung and general [illegible] prevailed. The names before the convention [illegible] B [illegible] Hoyt, Allen, Dr [illegible] Armstrong and [illegible] Greene [illegible] but R O Dunbar were [illegible] further [illegible] forty six votes out of a necessary seventy five. After the thirty first ballot was announced Armstrong was [illegible] the platform and [illegible] thanked [illegible] The convention then adjourned till [illegible]

CALIFORNIA

Elections Ordered in the Odd Districts

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 5—The supreme court has decided that elections for senators are to be held in odd districts. According to the text of the decision the senators to be elected will hold only for one term. In 1886 the whole senate will be elected under the law of the last session. It is believed the governor will bow to the decision of the court and order an election in the odd districts in his proclamation. The decision was delivered by Justice Ross. Justices Thornton, Myrick and McKee concurring, while Chief Justice Morrison and Justices McKinstry and Sharpstein dissented

Special—The decision of the supreme court rendered to day is greatly to the advantage of the republicans. Most of the districts in which a new election has been ordered are represented by democrats elected before the present arrangement of districts were made. It is certain that the democrats will lose twelve members of the next senate as an effect of the decision. This of course gives the republicans new hope of a majority in the legislature and of a senator to succeed Farley

The Reduction of Wages.

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 5—[Special]—The stewards and department of the Columbia, thirty two men quit yesterday with the first second and third officers, four quartermasters and one boatswain the sailors following suit making forty nine men who leave the vessel. In the outhouse department are twenty five or thirty men all of whom express a determination to strike immediately upon being notified of any reduction in wages. Purser May hurt [illegible] sides having his salary reduced has to perform the duties of freight clerk. Bolles's salary is cut down from $250 a month to $175. The sailors were receiving $45 a month and the reduction brings it down to $40

Special—The steamer Columbia sails for Portland at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning with its old officers and crew who will for this voyage at least and perhaps longer make further arrangements receive their pay at the old rates and not under the proposed reduced rate. The opposition to the reduction desired by eastern managers is increasing rather than decreasing. It is asserted that the pay of the sailors $1.50 a day is none too much for experienced hands on vessels which carry so many lives and so much valuable cargo. The stevedores too receive but thirty cents an hour as compared with fifty-five cents paid to those employed by sailing ship masters but on the other hand their employment is more continuous. The trades union here has taken up the fight on behalf of the Columbia's men and it is said will prevent the organization of a new crew for that ship

Personal

Special—Miss May Pendergast of Olympia, is in the city and will make an extended visit.

Miss Anna Hensley of The Dalles will return north by the steamer sailing next Tuesday.

THE EASTERN OUTLOOK

Feeling Among Irish Americans and the Working Masses Generally

Correspondence of the Herald

Mr M G Griffin, who was [illegible] of the Irish American [illegible] has just returned from [illegible] east [illegible] Mr Griffin was secretary of [illegible] a democrat for years. Mr Griffin was [illegible] Irish American [illegible] published a long [illegible] the effect soon after the nomination [illegible] in which he gave his reasons [illegible] [illegible] that he had made [illegible] nation [illegible] Herald represen[illegible] [illegible] Mr Griffin [illegible] feel inclined to make any [illegible] for the support [illegible]

Reporter—During [illegible] visit in the east how did [illegible] republican [illegible]

Mr Griffin—[illegible] not any [illegible] the [illegible] for Blaine [illegible] The [illegible] admiration for him [illegible] for his brilliancy and dash and for his efforts in congress and as secretary of state to protect naturalized Americans when abroad. They do not claim that he has done more for the Irish than for any other foreign people but that he has taken a great interest in all and has labored to protect them at home and abroad. We had a full representation at the land league meeting—in all about 450 delegates and altogether nearly 1000 prominent Irishmen. In the convention of course American politics were not referred to but after adjournment they were readily discussed by a large number. Of the fifteen delegates from Buffalo, Cleveland's old home, who had all been active democrats in the past I learned that twelve of them are actively supporting Blaine and the other three from political motives are giving no [illegible] to Cleveland but it is hard to tell how they will vote. One of the twelve Blaine men is an ex chairman of the democratic county committee

R—Did you meet and talk with any prominent [illegible] in New York? [illegible]

Mr G—Yes, Sir. I met [illegible] of Brooklyn who was [illegible] Representative Henry [illegible] Robinson [illegible] and many others all or nearly all of whom I found advocating the nomination [illegible] Blaine as their most available candidate. From several [illegible] from Massachusetts [illegible] learned they [illegible] in favor of [illegible] and they say they will poll more votes in Massachusetts than Cleveland. Gen P A C[illegible] ex-president of our league [illegible] was a defeated [illegible] to congress from his district in Massachusetts by 1100 majority [illegible] the democratic central committee [illegible] preferred him to keep him in the party [illegible] believe he is not serving the dictates of his own conscience. He will be set down on by them in his race for re election to congress and will be completely snowed under

R—Well, what did you learn or hear regarding the rumored desire of New York democrats to have Cleveland withdrawn?

Mr G—I talked to a number of democrats from New York who are supporting Cleveland who seem to be more than anxious to have him withdraw. The democratic leaders care more for party politics and the offices than they do for Cleveland and they seem to realize already that his cause is a hopeless one. Therefore they want him off the track

R—How do the laboring masses feel?

Mr G—I found in conversing with representatives of the working masses that they are most unitedly and bitterly opposed to Cleveland on account of his veto and standing on the tariff question. Many of them are in favor of Butler but see no show for him. The republican platform on the tariff suits them. I inquired also regarding the independent movement and found that it was represented by a small number and that most of them had in the past been free traders, the reason they are for Cleveland. The most of them appear like a cross between the dude and the John Bull element and ape the English accent and part their hair in the middle

AN INTERESTING BIT OF POLITICAL HISTORY

The New York Sun justifies itself in its political attitude by drawing an analogy between the campaigns of 1848 and 1884 and comparing its position with that of Samuel J Tilden, Sanford E Church and Silas Wright, who left the Hunker Martin Van Buren. Says the Sun: It is common to ascribe the decisive barn burner revolt which severely disciplined the Hunkers in the state of New York and caused the election of the whig presidential candidate to the vindictive temper of Martin Van Buren who desired, it is said, to punish Cass and his friends for an alleged act of unfaithfulness in the national convention of 1844. But the truth is that Wright and his followers opposed Cass and his faction because they believed the policy which he favored would be fatal to the democratic party throughout the north. They held that self preservation is the first law of politics as well as nature and that it would be better in the end for the democratic party to lose one election than that the men and principles represented in the barn burner uprising should so fatally discredited and cast aside. The event showed that they did not miscalculate. They were sustained by a majority of the democratic voters of the state of New York, though they were denounced as the supporters of Free-soilers and as renegades and traitors to the democratic party. It is true that by their defection the barn burners deprived New York of a democratic governor and the country of a democratic president. But they gave the democratic party a lesson it did not forget. Had the barn burners been treated at Baltimore in 1848 with the iron vigor shown to the unsuited minority of the New York delegation at Chicago in 1884 they would have swept the state like a whirlwind and have given Van Buren a majority of all the votes cast in New York. But the Baltimore convention did not permit a state convention to gag a whole wing of the democracy on the wretched plea that at a state convention it had been tricked into tacit acquiescence in a so-called unit rule. It is to the eternal honor of the Baltimore convention of 1848 that sooner than disfranchise the Hunker delegates from New York it confronted the certainty of a barn-burner defection and calmly marched to ruin. When the Chicago convention professing to desire an available candidate shut its eyes to conclusive evidence of unavailability—when it strangled the minority of the New York delegation and registered their votes in defiance of their will—it violated all the honor able precedents and fundamental principles of the democratic party. It invited disaster, it justified revolt. It gave every democratic voter, who in the person of his representative, was thus disfranchised at Chicago and infinitely stronger ground for bolting Cleveland's nomination than Samuel J Tilden had for bolting Cass in 1848

WHAT SOME PAPERS SAY

Chicago Inter Ocean: The complaint of democrats against republicans is that there is too much money in the treasury. One thing is certain, the democrats did not leave any in the treasury when they left power, and the treasury will collapse in short order should they get the boys

Boston Herald: The New York Sun avers that if Cleveland were to give place to Thurman all splits and divisions in the democracy would at once disappear. Are we to understand that the Sun would in that event abandon General Butler, or that General Butler would at once disappear? New York [illegible] It is more quickly Butler would doubtless withdraw

Chicago Tribune: Mr Schurz says his record is not a matter of interest in this campaign. No, we had an eloquence [illegible] Mr Schurz when he accident [illegible] was temporarily lifted into national prominence. Mr Schurz's attitude at the present time is one that his Hessian instincts naturally incline him to adopt. He is essentially a soldier of fortune and spells booty with a big B

Buffalo Commercial Advertiser: And not only in foreign countries but here in the United States—in certain portions of the republic—Mr Cleveland is also showing his republican rival a clean pair of heels. Especially is this the case in Utah. "In Utah," we are informed by no less an authority than Bishop Hart of the Mormon church, now in New York, "Mr. Cleveland is much admired."

Boston Journal: A Boston gentleman who had recently spent a week or more in New York sought every opportunity while there to find out the feeling of car drivers and conductors towards Mr. Cleveland. All whom he talked with without exception were bitterly opposed to Mr. Cleveland. He said to one of them: "They tell me in Boston that you are all Cleveland men." The conductor to whom he spoke laughed, and said that of the five or six hundred men employed on that road, it would be hard to find one Cleveland man.

Did Mr Hendricks Say This?

New York Sun

The following passage is from the very interesting letter of Mr Hendricks in the Dubuque Herald:

Three times Governor Cleveland has stood the test of popular canvass and each time he received the indorsement of his neighbors by a vote largely above his party strength. Whatever there may have been of the scandal existing before it is not just to him to revive it now

If this means anything it means that at three elections the people of Buffalo have voted to ignore, or to forgive, or to regard as outside of the question the scandalous quality of Mr Cleveland's private life.

The first of these three elections was when Mr Cleveland ran for sheriff of Erie county. That according to Mr Dorsheimer's biography of the candidate, was in 1870 or about four years before the occurrence of the events on which the charge of immorality is based

The second election was when Mr Cleveland ran for mayor of Buffalo in 1880. We have never heard that the facts about the now notorious scandal were laid before the citizens of Buffalo in that year in order that they might render a verdict on the question of Mr Cleveland's moral fitness

We are very sure that the facts in the case were unknown to the voters of the state generally when Mr Cleveland was elected governor two years ago. We do not believe that they were generally known to the citizens of Buffalo

Yet Mr Hendricks tries to convey the impression that his associate on the ticket has been thrice tried for immorality and thrice acquitted. Whatever may be his guilt he says it is unfair to put him on trial again

Remarkable as this argument is it is by no means so extraordinary as the fact that Mr Hendricks the candidate for vice-president should seriously consider the question of withdrawing the candidate for president from the ticket. Was there ever such a situation before in American politics?

New York

This is to certify that I am well acquainted with a man fifty years of age, for many years a resident of this city, who has been at times extremely ill but could not tell from what cause, unless it was worms. He told his attending physician his suspicions, but the physician at once ridiculed the idea and refused to attend him any longer. His son then mentioned Dr C McLane's Vermifuge and asked him if he would take it. His reply was—I must take something to get relief, or die.

They at once procured a bottle of Dr C McLane's Vermifuge, and he took one dose. The result was he passed upwards of three quarts of worms, cut up in every form. He got well immediately and is now enjoying excellent health, and, like the good Samaritan of old, is endeavoring to relieve his unfortunate neighbors. He makes this business to hunt up and select all cases similar to his own that may be given over by regular physicians and induces them to try Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge. So far he has induced more than twenty persons to take the Vermifuge, and in every case with the most happy results. He is satisfied that Dr C. McLane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, is superior to any other known remedy, and that if more generally known would not fail to save many valuable lives. For further particulars inquire of Mrs. Hard[illegible], 14½ Cannon street, New York City

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 6 1884.

WASTE OF EFFORT.

The suggestions published yesterday for improvement of the assessment law of the state so as to secure a higher and more equitable valuation of property are worth attentive consideration. It is plain that the pamphlet is the work of one who has given the subject much study; yet he is more hopeful of securing the consent of the people to a measure that would raise and equalize values than many others are. The experience of many years in dealing with this subject would seem to prove conclusively that the people of the several counties do not want any kind of law or any administration of law that would interfere with their own power to control the valuation. In each county public opinion tyrannizes over the assessor and compels him to violate, in fixing the values, the law we now have. The people of each county suppose that by this method they are keeping down their own taxes, and moreover are throwing burdens off upon their neighbors of other counties. It is just as well to be plain about this matter. There is no principle of honesty in the assessment, nor is any desired by the people. It was this that raised the storm against the equalization act of ten years ago.

The central idea pressed by the author of this pamphlet is a state board of equalization composed of the assessors of all the counties. The plan would require them to meet once a year, and upon comparison of data to fix rates of valuation for the several kinds of property, real and personal, agreeing for instance that if the average worth of the land was so much in Marion county it ought to be so much in Yamhill, so much in Douglas, and so on; and this agreed and comparative rate would become the basis of the assessment in each county. Then with his schedule of secured real estate and his schedule of secured notes each assessor could go to work, fortified against the solicitation or remonstrance of those who would insist on lower valuations.

This plan might accomplish something, but not much. If the changes effected by it were radical they would not be permitted; if they were not radical they would be of little value. So fixed has become the idea among the people of each county that the valuation which they compel their assessor to make swindles the people of the other counties, and so satisfactory is this feeling, that no great departure from the present method is likely to be permitted. Nor will the futile attempts to tax credits be abandoned, nor the habit of deducting indebtedness. Yet unless these be abandoned no real improvement can be made in our method of settling values for taxation, and the subject might almost as well be let alone.

H. W. S.

The mortgage tax law is one of the most potent causes of the present scarcity of money, and consequently of the prevailing hard times. To repeal it, and to abandon at the same time efforts to tax credits of every kind, would help matters greatly; but neither this nor any other rational or enlightened principle will be adopted in our tax system; and so, after all, though the subject is one well worthy of study, yet judging the future from the past, all effort to secure any useful change will be wasted.

A PRETTY "CORNER."

Many attempts are made to control the market in staple products, but these "deals" do not always result in profit to those who manage them. Now and then a Jim Keene collapses in the effort to control wheat or some other staple, and then the wonder is how anybody should have been such a fool as to try so hazardous a scheme. But when the "deal" succeeds, it is usual to see in it very remarkable proof of sagacity as well as courage.

One of the most successful of these attempts to control the market in a great staple has just been brought to a close in Chicago. A great "pork corner" has been running in that city for several months past. Last spring, after the collapse of stocks in New York, the operators, supposing there was to be a similar distraction of all values, rushed to Chicago and began to sell for future delivery the staples dealt in on the board of trade of that city. Pork was one of the articles that attracted their attention. They sold prodigious quantities of it for delivery in July and August, and carried down prices with a rush. At this time the great pork firm of Armour & Co. was holding about $12,000,000 worth of pork, on which it was threatened with a loss of $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. To protect itself this firm first bought up all the cash pork in the country, and then took all the "futures" that were offered. In this way Armour & Co. bought several hundred thousand barrels of pork which never existed, but which the sellers had to find during July or August, or settle on Armour's terms. The unfortunate seller, finding that the party to whom he had sold owned all there was of the article, had nothing left but to make terms. Pork which had been sold for delivery at $16 to $18 a barrel had to be settled for at $25 to $30. The summer pack was not available, because, under a rule of the board of trade, only winter pork was "regular." All this time the actual cash value of the article for consumption or to the trade was but about $12 a barrel.

At the end of August the "corner" closed, the last of the sellers having been forced to settle at more than double the actual value of the commodity. Armour & Co. made a profit of $2,500,000 or $3,000,000 out of a "deal" into which they had been forced by aggressive speculators, mostly outside of Chicago. In defending themselves they punished their assailants in a severe and memorable way.

The interests of Manitoba are far more closely connected with the United States than with Canada, from whose more settled and prosperous provinces it is separated by nearly one thousand miles of unproductive territory. The United States is the natural market and manufactory for Manitoba, and to compel the farmers of that province to procure their supplies from a country one thousand miles away, and with which they have no bond of union other than political, is a hardship becoming every year more oppressive. A system of commercial reciprocity would remove the hardship, but there is no general inclination on this side of the line to let down the bars for the benefit of the Canadians. It is apparent that the United States can get along without the Dominion a good deal more comfortably than the Dominion, or a part of it can get along without the United States, and the time will probably come, and may not be far distant, when the Canadians will supplicate for admission to the American republic. A strong feeling is already developed in favor of annexation.

The soap industry in California is falling off at a frightful rate. In 1876 the annual product was estimated at $1,000,000, while last year it barely amounted to $750,000. Is it possible that Denis Kearney's gospel of dirt has taken a hold of the people to this extent? Are the masses coming to the heathenish conclusion that cleanliness does not rank next to godliness? California, which once was a sure republican state, is now claimed by the democrats and Gen. Rosecrans asserts that his party will give at the least 5000 majority for Cleveland and Hendricks in November. Could this have anything to do with diminishing the demand for soap? It was Rosecrans, we believe, who charged upon the republicans of California a number of crimes, among which was that of furnishing soap for members of the legislature, who used up several boxes during a single session. The old general remembered that true democracy is the "unwashed" article; and it is possible that this return to the first principles of reform is what has paralyzed soap manufacture in California.

By the Oregon Short Line the distance from Portland to Omaha will be 1929 miles; to Chicago 2330 miles. By the Northern Pacific the distance to Chicago is twelve miles less.

PERNICIOUS LITERATURE.

Mr. C. B. Carlisle of East Portland has issued an address, in pamphlet form, on pernicious literature, "to parents, civil authorities and the press," with the "hope that every father and mother, every journalist, every man in authority will take something out of it for personal thought, personal application and personal duty." The direct aim of the address is to secure in public sentiment, but more particularly in the laws of the state, a recognition of the criminal character of pernicious literature. To illustrate what he would have the people of this state do, he incorporates in his address a copy of a law recently passed by the New York state assembly, which makes it a misdemeanor for any person to sell, lend or give away or have in his possession with that intent, or advertise in any way the sale of, any obscene or indecent book, magazine, pamphlet, newspaper, story paper, writing paper, picture, drawing or photograph, or book, pamphlet, magazine, newspaper or other printed paper devoted to the publication, or principally made up of criminal news, police reports or accounts of criminal deeds or pictures and stories of deeds of bloodshed, lust and crime. There is already in the general laws of this state a similar law against the sale of indecent pictures and obscene books. The only difference is that the New York law is more explicit in terms, and intended more particularly to interdict the sale of such papers as the Police Gazette, and such books as the "Dime Novels" and "Penny Dreadfuls," which magnify the profession of the outlaw. This is undoubtedly a substantial improvement, and might well be engrafted upon the law of this state. For publications like the Police Gazette, which devote their whole attention to illustrating and enlarging upon the achievements of criminals and the dissipations of the dissolute, have probably done more in the way of producing criminals than the trashy novels which are credited with that result. And so far as the daily press, or perhaps we should say the Sunday press, is forced to follow this lead, so far has its influence deteriorated and become pernicious.

But when the well recognized line is passed which separates the indecent from the decent, although the shading may extend and broaden the line of demarcation very widely, we doubt whether any literary censorship by the state is practicable or even useful. For in the shading of the line there will inevitably be found such differences of opinion as could, by no possibility, be expressed in a statute, and such as no police authority, or law and order leagues or committees could be tolerated in enforcing. Liberty has its perils, but without liberty there cannot be life. It is better for the community, that a few should fall, than that all should be cramped and stifled by laws intended to guard the weak alone. A few days since there appeared in our telegraph dispatches a startling statement from the last index to the Russian census respecting the extraordinary restrictions on literature in that country. There are only five or six firms in the whole empire who have a patent from the crown to sell books. All the rest exist on sufferance or permit, arbitrarily given and arbitrarily withdrawn by local police. There are only two public libraries in the whole country. The utmost freedom is better, and morally safer, than such repression as this. In the intellectual stagnation of the middle ages, before the revival of learning, morality was at the lowest ebb, and in the most secluded rural districts at the present day, where there is the least intellectual activity, and bad books are almost unknown, and all those temptations to vice which abound in cities are absent, there are frequent startling disclosures of horrible crimes such as a prurient imagination breeds when not excited or diverted by normal methods and influences, and the interior life of such communities is often unwholesome and nasty. We have in another connection quoted the remark of Mary Wolstonecraft, that "it is impossible to keep the heart pure unless the head is filled with ideas." Next to the monitions of an unspoiled conscience there is no greater safeguard for the young of both sexes than intellectual resource. An active brain, excited to healthy activity by abundant ideas, is a better citadel for the heart than any restrictions upon conduct imposed by parental or police restraints.

H. W. S.

We do not mean that a bad book is better than no book, although this question may be a debatable one. No community in this country is shut up to that alternative. There is an abundance of good literature, which is both cheap and attractive. And the directors of public libraries, parents, teachers and guardians, the pulpit and the press ought all, in their various ways of directing the choice of readers, to encourage the reading of good literature and, so far as practicable, to forbid the bad. But, in the exercise of this influence and direction, the natural desire of the young should not be ignored. Much of the old prejudice against works of fiction has passed away, and yet it lingers in some minds. It is as natural for children to love stories as it is to play. Any wholesale interdiction of fiction must include in it the fables of Æsop, the Pilgrims' Progress, according to most critics, the Book of Job, and according to all, the Parable of Jesus. The natural instinct of childhood for stories cannot be turned aside by giving a small boy Baxter's Saint's Rest. The imagination is one of the noblest and highest faculties, and it should be stimulated and trained at that period of life when it is most susceptible. Adam Clarke placed Robinson Crusoe next the Bible. Mackintosh said, "I swallow Corinne slowly that I may taste every drop. I prolong my enjoyment and really dread the termination." The novelists are the modern magicians who delight the imagination and light up the life with charming bits of landscape, the glint of waters, the rustle of green leaves, the breath of flowers and the songs of birds, and inspire the best of the best along leagues of picturesque highways, and take the most common materials of the daily life of the rich and poor and shape them into seemingly undying lessons of good. No one can come to know the men and women of George Eliot's creation without being bettered by the acquaintance. No boy can have the picture of dear old Colonel Newcome, the finest gentleman of fiction, impressed upon his imagination without improvement to his manners and morals, and no girl, knowing the fate of Hett Sorrel, will venture near such dreary primrose paths. And no person of any age or sex can listen to the sermons with which Thackeray colors his text, or follow Irma to solitudes where she expiated her sin, or watch Hester Prynne as she returns to take up her long neglected shame, and fail to be inspired to some manly deed or quickened into nobler thought. There would be no bad reading if children had always a chance to read what is good. The street gamin buys "The Poisoned Peanut, or Twelve Buckets of Gore" because he can get it for five cents. But the boy who has Scott, Cooper, Maryatt, Bulwer, Dickens, etc., at his pleasure, and begins his reading with them, will not want anything inferior. The boy who has the last of the Mohicans will not pore over Jesse James. The novel is only one form of literature, but it leads to a love for all forms, and novels should read as the introduction to a higher life and nobler work. If one begins with good ones, all the literary trash of the day will seem stale, flat and contemptible.

Democratic and sub-democratic papers are trying to make much of a letter against Blaine, written by Thad. C. Pound, once a republican member of congress from Wisconsin. To those who know Pound it is plain enough what is the matter with him. When Blaine was speaker he did not fully accept Pound's estimate of his own abilities and importance, and so did not give him the places on the committees that he wanted. And therefore Thad. Pound, who doesn't weigh more than an ounce in any one's estimation save his own, has been "laying" for Blaine ever since. It seems, however, that the republicans of Wisconsin have accepted Blaine's estimate of Pound, since they have declined to send him to congress any longer.

The Brooklyn Eagle speaks in the highest terms of the enlightened statesmanship and lofty political virtues of the members of the Tammany hall organization. It is fully convinced that "when the time for action arrives we have faith that they will be true to themselves, to the party and to their country." There is but very little doubt that the members of Tammany hall will be entirely true to themselves, but their ideas of their party and country are popularly supposed to be very much like those of the distinguished Irish patriot of the days of the Union, who "thanked God that he had a country to sell."

The French had an easy victory at Foo Chow, and, except for the quality of the men behind the guns, there is not a single city in the United States which is so strongly fortified in the size of its forts and the caliber of its ordnance as Foo Chow. Practically every one of them is defenceless against a third-rate power. This fact is referred to as a reason why the enormous surplus in our national treasury should be used to fortify our coasts and so make the continuance of a high tariff necessary. But it is really a reason why we should remain at peace with all the world.

H. W. S.

Richard Tweed, son of the late "Boss," recently died penniless and deserted in a madhouse in Paris. He passed his early manhood under the demoralizing influences of enormous wealth, political power and contempt for public opinion, and when the edifice of luxury and fraud fell in the conflict with aroused public indignation he was helpless even to earn a living or to retain a fragment of the plunder accumulated by stronger hands. Tweed would have done better for his family, as well as himself, if he had remained a day laborer throughout his life.

H. W. S.

A democratic paper of eastern Oregon complains that THE OREGONIAN does not contend as vigorously as it ought for the principle of free trade. It is, however, contending for that principle at least as vigorously as any esteemed democratic contemporary, and it fully seconds all that was said on the subject by Mr. Cleveland in his lucid letter of acceptance. By the way, would it be asking too much to request the democratic organ at Pendleton to reproduce Mr. Cleveland's eloquent remarks on this interesting subject?

Mr. S. W. Tallmadge of Milwaukee, well known for the thoroughness and accuracy of his annual estimates of the wheat crop of the country, thinks that the winter wheat crop will be 380,000,000 bushels and the spring wheat crop 150,000,000 bushels, or 25,000,000 bushels larger crop than was ever before raised. 130,000,000 bushels more than last year's crop and 80,000,000 bushels more than the average for the last five years. The average quality is superior, especially that of the spring wheat in the northwest.

The administration interfered in the politics of New York and Secretary Folger was nominated for governor. To rebuke this interference Cleveland was given 192,000 majority. A block of wood or Caligula's horse would have got the same vote in the circumstances. But the democratic managers misunderstood the whole matter, and that explains why such men as Bayard, Thurman, Randall and others of like standing, were passed by for a man of the calibre of Cleveland.

Sir Richard Temple, in a paper before the British association at Montreal admitted that the United States is advancing faster than any other country in the world. The words of Mr. Gladstone, "The United States are passing England at a canter," were hardly more emphatic than the declaration of Sir Richard, "the United States are already passing ahead."

The plea is for a change. Democrats haven't had a chance to steal from the national treasury for more than twenty years. A sufficient equivalent for "Turn the rascals out" is, "Keep the rascals out."

CITY.

THE WEST SHORE.—The September number of the West Shore is out, and is an unusually large and handsome issue, and reflects credit on the energetic and enterprising publisher, L. Samuels. It is July devoted chiefly to the interests of British Columbia, and illustrates the advantages and resources of that country in a style never before attempted and which cannot be surpassed. The title page is a beautiful work of art, consisting of a number of sketches illustrative of gold mining, coal mining, agriculture, salmon fishing and lumbering, the principal interests of the country. A very fine view of the entrance to the harbor of Victoria is given, and four pages are given to illustrations of the numerous fine public and private buildings of that city, and a full page to a view of the government buildings. There is a fine full page view of Esquimalt [illegible] harbor. To Nanaimo, its harbor and public buildings are devoted two pages, and there is a view of the Vancouver Coal Mining company's works there. A panoramic view of the pretty town of New Westminster occupies two pages [illegible] correct idea of the place. There is also [illegible] of Yale at the head of steamboat navigation on the Fraser, and of Coal Harbor, the terminus of the Canadian Pacific railway, and many other illustrations, all executed in a style that reflects credit on [illegible]. The articles descriptive of the country are carefully prepared and exhaustive, and it may be said that never before has British Columbia, its advantages and magnificent resources so thoroughly and admirably set forth.

WHEAT EAST.—The announcement made [illegible] since that the Northern Pacific railroad would carry wheat from all points on their [illegible] of Wallula Junction to Duluth, Minnesota, [illegible] St. Paul for $8 per ton, created considerable [illegible] and no little uneasiness to some who did not understand how the arrangement had been brought about. Some even imagined that it was a [illegible] of the company to injure Portland. The [illegible] the case are that a number of persons along the line of the Northern who had bought lands from the company had raised some wheat which they [illegible] to make payments on the land. Owing to the low price of wheat and the heavy cost of shipping [illegible] there seemed but a poor prospect of [illegible] people being able to make any payment. It was possible to reduce the freight rate over the [illegible] Railway and Navigation company's road, and, [illegible] on the suggestion of Paul Schulze, Mr. Harris, [illegible] by direction of Mr. Oakes, made the rate [illegible] to St. Paul for the especial benefit of the [illegible] along the line, on the principle that the [illegible] must stand in with them and carry their [illegible] to market if it did not make a cent. The entire [illegible] crop north of Snake river, on the line of [illegible] will not amount to over 10,000 tons, and it [illegible] no possible difference to Portland which [illegible] is carried, but our merchants will be benefited by it being sold, as then the farmers will be [illegible] pay for supplies bought here.

[illegible] FROM CONSUL T. MCF. PATTON.—A copy of the Hiogo News, published at Hiogo, Japan, [illegible] has been received at this office. Under the [illegible] "Sew To-Day" is a notice surmounted by a [illegible] fierce-looking American eagle, dressed [illegible] and star-bespangled breastplate yelling "[illegible] Unum," and signed by T. McF. Patton, [illegible] announcing to all the world that that gentleman on the above date assumed charge of the [illegible] of the United States for Osaka and Hiogo. [illegible] is something of a curiosity. The local [illegible] a rather scanty, the most interesting item [illegible] the following: "A few days ago a man [illegible] riding with his wife at Sudenkalsge, [illegible] Oml, when a jinrikisha-man [illegible] along, thrust the woman [illegible] vehicle and made off at full speed. The [illegible] pursued but could not overtake the jinrikisha, [illegible] no tidings has since been obtained of [illegible]." A man who could not overtake a jinrikisha deserves to get left. Advertisements of [illegible] and Godowns are plentiful, so the new [illegible] will probably send over some to stock it in [illegible] Hakodate ice is a cent and a half a pound, [illegible] to Osaka ice works supply it at a cent. It is [illegible] that on the night of July 31, 4.90 inches of rain [illegible] that there is not much danger of Mr. Patton's troubling him in that country.

[illegible] TERM IN THE PENITENTIARY.—Lee Sing, [illegible] guilty by a jury in the state circuit court of [illegible] a pair of boots from B. Ellis, 229 Second [illegible] was yesterday sentenced by Judge Smith to [illegible] in the state penitentiary for two [illegible]. The prisoner was very penitent and great tears [illegible] down his cheeks when sentence was pronounced. Other prisoners in the jail below had so [illegible] his mind that he believed the penitentiary [illegible] be a most dreadful place, where the men [illegible] suffered a living death, and when he went [illegible] to be out he tried to butt out his brains [illegible] the brick wall, and might have done so had [illegible] Dougherty thwarted his efforts by main [illegible]. He will be taken to the penitentiary to-day, [illegible] be agreeably surprised to find better quarters [illegible] better food than the average Chinese railroad [illegible] can supply.

[illegible] FOR GOOD HOP PICKERS.—More trouble [illegible] between hop raisers and Chinese whom [illegible] engaged to pick the crop. The Chinese [illegible] to do the work for about half price, [illegible] usual in such cases the hops are picked [illegible] and are mixed with leaves and stems. One [illegible] has a hop yard near Butteville and who [illegible] Chinamen is in a peck of trouble. He says [illegible] pick the hops so slovenly that it will [illegible] impossible to sell them for any decent price, and [illegible] worse he cannot make the Chinamen understand that they must do the work better, [illegible] one of them speaks English. He came [illegible] yesterday to get a Chinese "boss" to go [illegible] straighten out matters, and thinks by the [illegible] back home he will be mad enough to [illegible] the whole gang and hire white men at the [illegible].

[illegible] FOSSIL.—B. S. Rowe, superintendent [illegible] railway division of the O. R. & N. Co., has received from Paul Tompkins, agent of the company [illegible] Umatilla county, a fossil fish, which is one [illegible] most beautiful things of the kind imaginable. [illegible] piece of cream colored stone appears the [illegible] a fish six inches in length resembling a [illegible] black flinty-looking stone, more perfect [illegible] could be painted. The fine bones in the fins [illegible] and each rib are clearly defined, even the [illegible] can be plainly seen. The backbone is [illegible], and every vertebra can be counted. The [illegible] where it was found is very rich in fossil [illegible] but fish are not so common. If fossils like [illegible] can be found in any number there it will [illegible] long before geologists will be making the [illegible] there.

[illegible] FILED.—The Oregon Railway and Navigation company yesterday filed an answer to the complaint of the Oregonian Railway company (limited), [illegible] is now pending in the U. S court for the [illegible] of the rent due the plaintiff on the lease of [illegible] to the defendant. The answer denies [illegible] when the road was tendered back by [illegible] defendant it was in any worse condition than [illegible] was received. Defendant also claims to [illegible] knowledge of the fact that the Oregonian [illegible] company (limited) is a duly organized corporation. This will probably render it necessary [illegible] plaintiff to procure evidence of the fact from [illegible], which will cause some delay in the proceedings.

[illegible] THE POLICE COURT.—The peace and [illegible] of the police court was disturbed yesterday [illegible] tremendous noise proceeding from the upper [illegible] of the building, as if a cyclone was tearing the [illegible]. Judge Moreland requested policeman Wing [illegible] investigate the matter. Several officers and as [illegible] reporters climbed the winding stair and found [illegible], the howling terror of Denver, wearing [illegible] of her couch in trying to batter down [illegible] building. When interfered with she poured a [illegible] of abuse on the officers. Everything movable [illegible] taken from the room, and she was left [illegible] her glory to chew a bitter cud of fancy in [illegible] a particle of saccharine matter could be [illegible].

[illegible] CLOSING OF STORES.—Clerks and employes [illegible] establishments in this city have already [illegible] the early closing movement for the [illegible] fall and winter. An agreement will be circulated among proprietors for signatures the first [illegible] week. It is urged in favor of this movement [illegible] with the knowledge that all stores would close [illegible] a reasonable hour in the evening customers [illegible] make their purchases earlier, and the tired [illegible] who are at their posts from twelve to sixteen hours a day, would have an hour or two in the [illegible] to spend with their families, or read and [illegible] improve themselves, which comforts are [illegible] effectually denied them.

[illegible] FOR SERVICES AS ATTORNEY.—Ellis G. [illegible] yesterday commenced two suits in the [illegible] States circuit court against the Dundee [illegible] and Trust Investment Company, one to [illegible] the sum of $15,000, and the other to recover [illegible] alleged to be due him for services rendered by [illegible] attorney of the company. As Mr. Hughes [illegible] suits against the same company before [illegible] recovery of wages, it is to be inferred that [illegible] is only lately becoming aware of the actual [illegible] his services, or that he was afraid to let [illegible] know the worst, and so let them down [illegible] the installment plan.

[illegible] LECTURES.—The third and last of [illegible] of lectures by Herr Friedrich Schuenemann-Pott, under the auspices of the Portland [illegible] Verein, will be delivered to-morrow evening [illegible] Turn Halle. The subject chosen by the [illegible] is "Savonarola, the Famous Italian Reformer." After the lecture there will be a social [illegible].

[illegible] NUISANCE.—Residents in the vicinity of [illegible] intersection of Lownsdale and Twelfth streets [illegible] that some one has dumped several loads of [illegible] the street there, causing a most offensive [illegible] stench. They should find out who [illegible] and cause [illegible] the [illegible] of the nuisance.

[illegible] OF A JUROR.—While the case of Leahy [illegible] E. Martin & Co. was [illegible] circuit court yesterday morning [illegible] of the jurors, was taken suddenly [illegible] carried from the room. He [illegible] consent of both parties the [illegible] eleven jurors.

[illegible] PASSENGERS.—The following [illegible] passed Huron yesterday [illegible] Friday: David Porter and wife, [illegible], W. H. P. Brownell, F. S. Chase, H. W. Carter, Harry Keys, H. Haupt, and Miss [illegible].

Headquarters for nobby shoes for young men, [illegible] makes, latest styles, and we can duplicate eastern prices, at 249 First street, between Main and Madison. M. E. Lewis.

CLOSED BY ATTACHMENT.—Taylor Bros., grocers, corner Fifth and Alder streets, were closed by the sheriff yesterday morning on an attachment for $700 and interest in favor of their father, George K. Taylor. Other creditors are yet to hear from. This is the second time these men have permitted their store to go into the sheriff's hands in order to secure their father for money advanced. The first time they succeeded in effecting a settlement with their other creditors and resumed business. But, as before, they did not prosper and have now given up trying.

LECTURES.—All friends of truth are invited to come to Turn Hall during the season of scientific lectures to be given by Prof. Cain, the wonderful lecturer of California, who comes well recommended by [illegible] of California. The first subject [illegible] "Origin of Man." Other questions will be treated exhaustively by the lecturer during the week. "The [illegible]" [illegible] the [illegible]. The professor will discuss phrenology during the season.

WILL MAKE A PLEASANT DRIVE.—The improvement of [illegible] street, now in progress, will enable parties driving out Jefferson street to the Canyon gardens to cross over to [illegible] street without driving back to Eleventh street. [illegible] street crosses the canyon just west of the Canyon gardens and connects with King street, leading down to it. When Park avenue is improved the city park can also be reached from Jefferson street by this route, which will be a very pleasant drive.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.—David Cole's team attached to his delivery wagon ran away on Stark street yesterday, colliding with a hydrant and a wagon and narrowly missing a car on Third street. The team was finally stopped on Tenth street. One of the horses was slightly injured, and there was some damage to the wagon. It was loaded with small hardware, a goodly portion of which was scattered along the route taken by the runaway team.

HOTEL CLOSED.—The Norton house, a second-class hotel located on the corner of D and First streets has closed its doors to the public for the present, at least, owing to lack of patronage. The building is owned by Mrs. Norton, who resides in San Francisco. The lessee and manager of the house, the late J. M. [illegible], has sold the furniture, and will in the future probably have nothing more to do with the place.

COMMENCING THE SEASON.—A party of sportsmen have chartered a steamer to go down to Sauvie's Island, to-morrow to give a grand overture for the duck shooting season. It is not expected that any great killing will be made, but the boys want to get the lay of the ground. Quite a number of shootists will go down to-day and return with the party.

IDENTITY ESTABLISHED.—From letters found in the pockets of the man run over and killed at Wallula Junction a few days since, it was ascertained that his name was Lawrence M. Alderson, and that he was from Minnesota. He had only 10 cents in his pockets. He fell from the brake bar, on which he had been riding, and was instantly killed.

INDICTED BY THE GRAND JURY.—The burglar shot by Dr. Pilkington is able to move around, and will be taken to the county jail to-day. He has been indicted by the grand jury under the name of Harry Chalwin, which he himself gave, but which the police are satisfied is not his right name.

BRIEF MENTION.

The annual pew sale takes place in the synagogue to-morrow.

The Lurline will make the usual trip to Astoria to-day at 9 P. M.

Last performance of the Templeton troupe to-night—"Olivette."

Over 1100 packages of tobacco arrived in this city overland on Thursday.

Matinee at New Market theater this afternoon. The Fay Templeton troupe in "Giroflé-Girofla."

Chung Lung, a Chinese merchant, was attached by the sheriff yesterday for $166, in favor of the Hop Chung company.

The case of Van B. DeLashmutt, charged with assault and battery, has been continued in the police court until Monday.

The city is concerned in 129 cases now pending in the state circuit court. Most of these are against dive keepers, who are doggedly resisting payment of their license fee.

John Fallon, for assault and battery on his wife, was fined $5 by Justice Redmond yesterday. Mrs. Fallon would not testify against her husband, although the assault was no secret.

Capt. Cornelius of the police force was presented the other day with a squash weighing sixty-five pounds. It was grown on the ranch of P. M. Hinearson about a mile from Oregon City.

In the case of Schneider vs. Lee & Marks, the bankrupt proprietors of the Burton house, the plaintiff in the state circuit court yesterday obtained judgment by default in the sum of $531 40 and costs.

The time between this city and San Francisco by the overland route has been so shortened by the extension of railroads in both states that passengers are now coming through in fifty-nine hours.

A team of horses and some wagons, the property of D. M. Eddy, were sold at sheriff's sale at the corner of Fourteenth and J streets, yesterday morning, for $320, to satisfy a chattel mortgage. L. Sorenson was the purchaser.

All members of Portland Band of Hope No. 1 are requested to meet in the hall of the W. C. T. U. on Fifth street, near Alder, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, to practice for the concert. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

Dr. E. P. Fraser was fined $5 for neglecting to repair a crosswalk in front of his residence. He had contracted for the work with a carpenter, but before the latter began the needed improvement the doctor found out that delays were expensive.

L. A. Loomis of Astoria will start east in a few days for the purpose of buying a lot of rails and other material for the Ilwaco and Gray's harbor railroad. It will take about 600 tons of rails, and they will probably be brought out by sailing vessel.

B. Bleiman, an advertising solicitor, has been arrested upon a warrant issued by Justice Greene, charging him with larceny by bailee. The complainant is G. W. McCoy, the printer, who claims that Bleiman collected some $20 for him and appropriated the same to his own use.

The regular business meeting of the Young Men's Christian association will be held this evening in the chapel of the new rooms now occupied by the association; business of special importance and peculiar interest to all its members will come up for consideration, and a full attendance is urgently requested at 8 o'clock sharp.

The whereabouts of William Thompson of Astoria are desired to be known by a former friend. He has been missing for the past two or three months and was last heard of in this city. This friend, George Miller, had loaned him $114, and ever since that he has been missing. Miller thinks it is very strange but the police are of a different mind.

PASTRY WITHOUT BUTTER.

The American pie has been subjected to more unjust abuse from foreign writers than any other of our distinctive products, if we except the recent tirade against the American hog. And yet we cannot say that it has been altogether undeserved, because of the villainous compound, thick, hard and heavy, that is too often made to do duty as a "crust," and which by courtesy is called "pastry." Light, tender, flaky and digestible pie crust and all kinds of pastry can be made most readily by the use of Royal Baking Powder without any butter, or with half the usual portion, if preferred, or with a small quantity of lard or other shortening as desired. Pie crust thus made is much more wholesome and digestible, besides being more economical and easier prepared. In addition to saving all the butter, if desired, one-third the flour is also dispensed with, as the crust is rolled that much thinner, the leavening qualities of the Royal Baking Powder swelling it to the requisite thickness. If drippings or lard be used the Royal Baking Powder removes any unpleasant taste, rendering the crust as short, sweet and pleasant as if made from the finest butter. Those who know the appetizing qualities of the genuine home-made American pie will rejoice that by the aid of Royal Baking Powder in the pastry it can be made quite as digestible as it is delicious.

PERSONAL.

Rev. T. L. Eliot has returned from his vacation, and will occupy the Unitarian pulpit to-morrow.

J. H. Munson and family of Olympia returned home yesterday, after several days' stay in this city.

Mr. C. W. Prindle, an old Portlander, now a resident of Chehalis, W. T., returns home to-day after a few days' sojourn here.

Mr. Chas. Albright of Oregon City, and Miss A. E. [illegible] Jerome of this city, who have been visiting friends at McMinnville, have returned to their respective homes.

AMUSEMENTS.

NEW MARKET THEATER.—The Fay Templeton troupe presented that well worn, though rather pretty, comic opera, "La Mascotte," to a large audience. Prince Lorenzo was assumed by Harry Brown, whose delineation of the part was comical in the extreme. Hunt made a handsome Pippo, and the sprightly Fay a charming Bettina. For the matinee this afternoon the company will reproduce "Giroflé-Girofla," and in the evening "Olivette."

CITY VIEW PARK.

Sunday, September 7, 1884.

Trotting race, mile heats, best three in five. $100 a side, between I. D. Spurlock and Rowe & Moore of Olympia, W. T. Entries: Mr. I. D. Spurlock names Rucker, by Mac, dam by son of Paul Jones, Messrs. Rowe & Moore name Wasco, by Kisber, dam by Pathfinder.

Races will begin at 2:30 P. M., sharp.

Two elegant steamers will make regular hour trips after 1 o'clock, from the foot of Taylor street.

Fare for round trip, 25c; children free.

Admission to park, 25c; children free.

Pools for the above race will be sold at Weinmeier's saloon at 8 o'clock P. M. Saturday.

All kinds of refreshments served on the ground.

CAPT. H. SCHNEIDER, Proprietor.

Cash only will be accepted hereafter at the [illegible] station for the appearance in court the next day of persons arrested at night. These are the orders of Judge Moreland, and are issued because in [illegible] cases it has not been possible to collect [illegible] from persons who have become entitled for [illegible] ers and thus secured their release.

There have been many acrimonious controversies as to the authorship of "Beautiful Snow," but there will never be any dispute as to who wrote Grover Cleveland's letter of acceptance. It is unquestionably his own work, without inspiration from any source. Honor to whom honor is due.—New York Sun.

[illegible]

[illegible] M. E. LEWIS.

Mrs. Dr. Owens-Adair announces to her former patients and friends that she is again at home, corner [illegible] and First sts., over the drug store. Office hours [illegible] as heretofore.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway is the short line to all eastern points, and it runs the finest dining and sleeping cars in the world.

W. J. Quinn is the only [illegible] dealer that imports direct his own goods.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

LITTLE OR NO DAMAGE DONE TO GRAIN BY THE RAIN AS YET.

Reports Obtained Yesterday Afternoon from the Principal Points in the Willamette Valley and Inland Empire.

[illegible]

Willamette Valley.

[illegible]

Halsey.—Crops at present appear not damaged to any great extent. [illegible] wheat still standing in the fields, all appears in good condition.

Junction.—[illegible] to-day, and but very little damage [illegible] no more rain [illegible].

Jefferson.—[illegible]

[illegible]

McMinnville.—[illegible] stopped threshing for a day and a half. Threshing about three-quarters done in this county. Grain coming in fast; about [illegible] bushels in store here now.

Cornelius.—It rained most all day yesterday and part of last night, sun shining now, and quite warm all day. If this weather continues yesterday's rain will do no damage. Getting rainy [illegible] weather.

NARROW GAUGE [illegible].

From all points on the narrow gauge reports show that very little grain is now standing. At Dallas there is about a week or ten days' threshing to do yet. Other places are more advanced. They fear the rain now on account of some late grain in shocks. No damage has been done thus far to crops anywhere.

WEATHER IN THE INLAND EMPIRE.

Walla Walla—Cloudy, calm; thermometer [illegible].
Milton—Weather about the same.
Pendleton—Clear and cold; slight sprinkle.
La Grande—Clear, calm and cold; no rain to-day.
Dalles—Slightly cloudy and cold; no rain to-day.
Meacham—Slight snow few miles beyond here.

CHEERING NEWS.

The Revival of an Old and Trusted Firm.

The complaint of hard times has been so steady and growing of late that people who are in the habit of looking at things through blue spectacles almost despaired of ever seeing prosperity reign among us again. "The bottom has dropped out of the northwest," was the general password, and we grant that if the country depended upon such prophets for its general advancement the bottom would surely drop out of it. But happily there are men among us who never lose courage, despite the most trying ordeals. If by some unforeseen force they are felled to the ground, they are bound to rise again, stronger and more courageous than ever. We have an illustration of this in the revival of the old and tried Grocers' and Mechanics' store under the proprietorship of Prager Bros. There is cause for double congratulation in this cheering event. It shows two things most conclusively, and they are, first the indomitable spirit of Portland's business men, and, second, the faith which these men of foreign birth have in the future stability and prosperity of this northwestern country. It is therefore with unfeigned pleasure that we announce the reopening of the above named establishment to take place about the 15th of this month on the northeast corner of First and Taylor streets. The location is admirable in every respect, and will certainly be a handsome addition to the already attractive commercial center of Portland.

Mr. L. Prager has just returned from a trip east, where he has purchased a stock of general merchandise, and is at present on a tour to San Francisco in order to complete his purchases. In an interview with the gentleman we were informed that he is in every respect satisfied with the result of his visit to the eastern market. He has found the ruling prices of goods so low that he purchased almost double the amount of first intended. He also states that although the east offers the greatest inducements to dealers of this part of the country, yet in certain lines the California fabrics stand preeminent in quality, and are almost indispensable to a complete stock. In time we give our readers a more intimation of what the future farmers' [illegible] the store is ready to [illegible].

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

Vancouver Independent.

Hospital Steward Paul Winkler, Fort Spokane, has been granted six months furlough, with permission to go beyond the seas.

Lieutenant Hubbell, U. S. A., with forty-eight recruits for the Fourteenth infantry, arrived in this department on Saturday.

Lieutenant Guy Howard, U. S. A., brother of Mrs. J. T. Gray of this city, departed for Europe with his bride on the 16th of August.

Lieutenant Frank Greene of the U. S. signal corps has finished a tour of inspection, and departed for Washington, D. C., under orders on Friday, the 29th ult.

In addition to his other duties Captain J. W. McMurray, First artillery, will take charge and conduct the business of the office of the chief engineer of this department.

Major T. C. Sullivan, subsistence department, who was transferred from Vancouver barracks to San Francisco, will shortly be changed to the subsistence depot in Boston.

Major Eckerson's son, Lieutenant T. H. Eckerson, Nineteenth infantry, was married at Washington August 20, to Miss Eleanor Almour. Lieutenant T. W. Symons was the groom's best man.

Major John Moore, medical department, late director in this department, a few days since celebrated his 19th birthday at San Francisco. His many Vancouver friends tender their congratulations and good wishes.

Major Theo. E. Eckerson, formerly depot quartermaster at Vancouver, has gone from Montana to Washington, where he will be retired from the service soon. Many Vancouver people retain pleasant recollections of the gallant major, and wish him pleasant days in his Washington home.

A general court-martial is ordered at Fort Boise, to convene today. The detail includes Major J. S. Brisbin, second cavalry; Captain C. Dempsey, second infantry; Dr. E. D. Ebert; Lieutenant J. C. Irwin, second cavalry; Lieutenant T. H. Wilson, second infantry, and Captain T. J. Gregg, second cavalry, as judge advocate.

Independents Repudiate Cleveland.

Rev. Washington Gladden in the Independent.

I do not think I am mistaken in my judgment that the large class of independent voters is turning away from Governor Cleveland with sorrow, if not with disgust. I do not believe that the plain people of this country will regard his offense as venial, or will deliberately consent that a man with a name so tarnished should occupy their chief seat of honor. Last of all to accept such a candidate will be those independent voters who were intending a few weeks ago to cast their votes for Governor Cleveland.

THE EAST SIDE.

FIREMEN'S MEETING.

Pioneer Engine Co. No. 1 held a long and interesting session last evening. The following business was transacted:

[illegible] which was accepted, and the following resolutions relating thereto unanimously adopted:

[illegible]

RESTORED TO RIGHTS.

As recently indicated, suits have been commenced against Chas. Le Page by former tenants of buildings [illegible] by the recent fire, whom he refused to re[illegible] and the portions of advance rents unearned at the time the buildings were destroyed. Plaintiffs are [illegible] Hirsch & Braun of the Canopy restaurant, and Jas. Keidel, the saloon keeper. The suits were commenced in Justice Coleman's court, F. A. E. Starr for plaintiffs and W. T. Shrong for defendant, and judgment were taken by stipulation that the cases be carried to the circuit court.

THE PENITENT SALOON-KEEPER [illegible].

D. A. Epstyn, the repentant [illegible] saloon keeper [illegible] and the refund of a portion of his license, because he had concluded to become a "peaceable and law abiding citizen," was yesterday arraigned before the recorder for violating the Sunday law, and, pleading guilty, was fined $10 and costs. His plaintive pleadings do not appear to have had much weight with the marshal, who instituted the proceedings against him. The offence was committed Sunday before last at W. Lafayette park, when he ran a bar open and above board. The unprofitableness of his business at this place possibly induced him to become repentant and petition for a return of his license money. He is the same Epstyn who ran a saloon on the corner of Second and Morrison streets, Portland, and can prove his sincerity by concluding to become a "peaceable and law abiding citizen" in that city also, and asking the council to refund his license money.

NOTES.

The store of Goldsmith & Cooper has reopened with the assignee in charge.

George Austin came up from Clifton last evening to remain a couple of weeks.

Miss Emma Henbree has gone to Eugene for a few weeks on a visit to her parents.

H. C. Corbeck and family have returned from Wilhoit Springs, where they have been camping for a week.

The families of Messrs. S. Bullock, H. E. Lewis and Walter White have returned from a camping-out season at La Camas.

W. H. Parrott, J. L. Sperry and Sam Raffety left yesterday for Rock creek on the Nehalem river for a two weeks' hunt for elk and deer.

The Foresters of Portland and East Portland have engaged Hall & Stott's hall for a ball to be given by them jointly on Thanksgiving night.

Rev. R. F. Wilson has gone to The Dalles for a two weeks' vacation. Much satisfaction is expressed at his reassignment to the East Portland M. E. church.

It has been decided to add a brick basement, six feet high, to the proposed Harrington brick on Fourth and H streets. This will add $800 to the contract price of John Becker.

C. O. Blakely secured the contract for the pork packery of J. A. Burkhard, to be erected on the corner of I and Second streets. The main building will be 40 feet front by 60 feet deep, with kitchen and smoke house in the rear 40 feet deep.

Another obscene language case from Albina came up in Justice Coleman's court yesterday, Mrs. Mary Toohey being charged with that offense by Mrs. [illegible]. Defendant was released on her own recognizance to appear for trial at 10 o'clock this morning.

Turn the Rascals Out.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

"Turn the rascals out," says Mr. Schurz. So say we all. Turn out the democratic representatives from North Carolina, South Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana, and perhaps other southern states, who were elected to their seats by systematic fraud, after it had been found a more efficacious means of suppressing the free ballot than violence. Turn the rascals out. Turn out William H. Barnum, the chairman of the democratic national committee, the responsible author or abettor of that wicked forgery, the Morey letter, by which that committee attempted to steal the presidency. Turn the rascals out. Turn out his associates on the executive committee of 1880, who shared in their several degrees the responsibility for that infamous crime. Turn out his associates in the present national committee, who, with full knowledge of his complicity in that audacious fraud, and of his capacity for any wicked invention the exigencies of the campaign might make necessary, re-elected him chairman of that committee. Yes, turn the rascals out. The democratic party has proved false to every pledge it made to the country on the question of the tariff and civil service reform. It has thwarted the most necessary legislation on the most shameless political grounds.

How an Irishman Talked Dumas.

Tinsley's Magazine.

As O'Donovan was taking his leave Dumas complimented him on his French, saying that he spoke the language well for an Irishman. "We are not all uncivilized here, master," said O'Donovan, "and I am proud to meet you and tell you how much you are prized in my country. It is years since I made the acquaintance of one of your family there. I became very intimate with him, and I am indebted to him for many hours of delightful enjoyment." "One of my family? This is astonishing. I never heard of any of them who went to Ireland. There must be some mistake." "No mistake, I assure you. He is well known there and a great favorite." "You have set my curiosity on fire. Name him, pray." "The count of Monte Cristo." The prince of novelists bounded off his seat, caught O'Donovan in his arms, hugged him to his broad breast and kissed him on both cheeks. Then, holding him back from him, he looked at him with eyes blazing with triumph and gladness, and exclaimed: "You are right, my child; the Irish are not uncivilized, they have wit. They are worthy to be French. I was never paid a higher compliment in my life."

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Walter Burlingame, Aged Thirteen Years, Goes out Hunting with His Brother, Drops his Gun and is Killed Instantly.

Near Bilston, Washington territory, on Thursday of last week, the two sons of Anson Hartl[illegible], Frank and Walter, went hunting, the younger of the boys, Walter, carrying an old United States musket heavily loaded with buckshot. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon, while two miles from home, the boys stopped on a log, and while Walter was pointing out to his brother where he had [illegible] hid out in a tree, the breech of the musket rest[illegible] at this instant slipped from the log and was discharged. The entire charge of buckshot passed through Walter's left hand and the [illegible] of his neck and face. Walter fell to the ground and died without a struggle.

The elder brother ran for aid and with [illegible] the father [illegible] and two neighbors back to the scene. [illegible] the party until 10 P. M., with [illegible] to carry the body out of the mountains [illegible].

On [illegible] the funeral services were conducted by Rev. [illegible] at the grave, whither the remains had been followed by a large number of sympathizing friends of the family. The boy was aged 13 years, [illegible] months and [illegible] days.

Mr. Burlingame, the father, lost his wife about two years ago and had the care of six children, three of them younger than Walter. The latter was his father's housekeeper, and while the other brothers and the father were much of the time from home, he was so faithful to his charge and so watchful and careful of the three little children as to challenge the admiration of the entire community. Walter was quiet and dignified for a boy of his years. He had no enemies among his playmates, and was never known to use profane language. Forty of his school fellows attended the funeral and each felt as if he had lost a brother. J. H. W.

Dishonesty Exposed.

In justice to the distinguished men to whom the "Royal Baking powder Co." have referred, it should be said that four of the most eminent

Prof. R. C. KEDZIE, Michigan State Agricultural College, Lansing, Mich.
Prof. ALBERT F. MENKE, Kentucky State College, Lexington, Ky.
Prof. C. B. GIBSON, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Chicago.
Prof. R. S. G. PATON, Late Chemist Health Department, Chicago.

Have since appeared in cards to the public disowning the endorsements attributed to them. When it is known that these gentlemen charge the "Royal Co." with garbling their statements and making unauthorized use of their names, it is but natural that the public look with suspicion upon every evidence offered by them.

When a chemist of world wide fame, ranking among the standard modern authorities in that science, Prof. R. OGDEN DOREMUS, M. D., LL. D., College of the City of New York, authorizes it to be publicly stated that he found the "Royal Baking Powder" to be so heavily charged with "AMMONIA" as to taint the bread and biscuits after passing through the baking process—when a physician of the highest standing, president of Rush Medical College, Chicago, Prof. J. ADAMS ALLEN, M. D., says that "Ammonia is a medicine, if used in baking powder, in bread, its action would be that of a medicine, and so not only void of nutrition, but attended, if long continued, by injury to the stomach"—it should arouse the community of housekeepers who have for years been using this "Royal" tainted cooking preparation to just indignation.

DO NOT TAKE OUR WORD.

Ask your family physician if the manufacturers of

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

Could use Common Lime, Glauber Salts, Washing Soda or Potash, as maliciously stated by the "Royal Co."

The "Royal" contains the disgusting and poisonous drug "AMMONIA."

THEY DARE NOT DENY IT.

Housekeeper's Protection.

1st. Place a can of "Royal" top down on a hot stove until heated. Remove the cover and smell—"Ammonia—Hartshorn."

2d. Place two teaspoonfuls of "Royal Powder" in two tablespoonfuls boiling water; stir, and when cold smell an unspeakable odor, proving the source of "Ammonia."

"ORIGIN OF AMMONIA.
"It was originally prepared from putrid urine." "A patent was taken out in England for manufacturing it from Guano. United States Dispensatory, page 107.

SATUR MORNING, SEPT. 6 1884

IS THERE TOO MUCH WHEAT?

Good Authorities Say that the Surplus is Not Large—And that the Staple will Regain Considerably Higher Values—Information from New York.

New York Tribune.

A letter published by you February 8 closed in these words: "Hence it would seem probable that about 76,000,000 bushels (of wheat) would remain July 1 to be carried over to another year." This estimate, made by me over six months ago, differed only 445,082 bushels from the most accurate statement that can be made with the final official statistics of the last crop year before me. I am indebted to Mr. Nimmo, chief of the bureau of statistics, for personal information of the exports and imports during the last fiscal year, the publication of these most valuable statistics having been most stupidly stopped by an act of congress at the last session. The quantities and values are as follows:

	Exports Domestic.	Foreign.	Imports.
Flour, bbls	9,152 260	253	1,810
Wheat, bushels	75,840 012	100,995	24,329
Flour, value	$51,129 698	$ 1,375	$ 8,251
Wheat, value	75,061,678	103,749	23,020

At four and a half bushels of wheat to the barrel of flour, the excess of exports over imports was equivalent to 111,653,152 bushels of wheat, against 145,918,047 during the previous fiscal year. The official figures of acreage, yield, and exports, were given in my letter of February 8 for sixteen years, and it was there shown that the average consumption for food had been 4417 bushels yearly for 1000 inhabitants. At the beginning of the last fiscal year, upon the estimates previously given, the population of the country was 55,223 279. Adding 2 per cent. increase, and the actual immigration for the year, 509 234, we have 56,042,332 as the best estimate that can be made of the population June 30, 1884. The mean of these numbers, 55,134,165, is the consuming population for the crop year, and at the rate given above the consumption for food and the arts would be 247,944 552 bushels. According to bureau reports of acreage, the consumption for seed was about 52,000,000 bushels. Thus the net exports and the consumption for food and the arts and for seed, from the crop of 1883, amount to 411,409,120 bushels.

Now the letter already mentioned showed that 65,577,155 bushels of wheat were probably in the country at the beginning of the crop year, being left over from the crop of 1882. The final official statement of the yield in 1883 is 421,086,160 bushels. This gives a total supply of 486,963 315 bushels, and deducting the exports and consumption, as above stated, we have as the quantity of wheat probably remaining in the country July 1, unconsumed and unsold, 75,554,185 bushels. My estimate February 8 was that 76,000,000 bushels would remain.

THE COURSE OF THE MARKET

Has been such as to justify the suggestion made six months ago. The price of No. 2 red winter wheat at New York, February 8, was $1 07½. With great effort the powerful clique managed to raise it to $1 09, February 11, but it then receded and closed for the month at $1 08; in March it closed at $1 01, and April 5 it dropped to 96c. Another clique then made a great effort, and, with banks helping, the price reached $1 11½ at the end of April. But the banks discovered in May that they had been boosting speculation of various kinds too much. The closing price for May was $1 01½, and the price dropped to 93½c, June 9. Though it recovered to 95½c at the end of that month, and staggered through July at about that figure, it dropped August 13 to 85c bid, and it is no longer a question, as it was said to be six months ago, whether there was a "deficiency of 60,000,000 bushels in the world's supply of wheat for 1883-84.

As to the crop of 1884, estimates are not yet particularly trustworthy. None doubt, however, that it is a very large crop, and if it exceeds 504 000,000 bushels, the largest crop yet grown, no one will be surprised. Comparisons of state reports with those of the agricultural bureau with due allowance for the known idiosyncrasies of each, incline one to think that the crop may prove the largest ever raised, say 350,000,000 bushels winter and 165,000,000 spring wheat; but if some of the state reports prove reliable, it will even exceed that quantity. In an article July 26 the London Economist showed that

THE AVERAGE PRICE OF WHEAT

In England during the first half of 1884 had been lower than for any year since in 1780, and only 1s 8d per quarter above the extraordinary record of that far-off year. Present indications are that the abundant supplies on both sides of the ocean will cause very low prices this fall, so that the British average for the year may be nearly or quite the lowest for a century. Last year interested parties created a general but most unfounded expectation that there would be a deficiency, and such an expectation, with moderate or high prices ruling, tends to prevent expansion or consumption much above the average. But the price has now declined so far that, if it is not artificially lifted, a material increase of consumption, both in this and other countries, seems likely to result. Only by such an increase can the farmers be saved from loss through accumulation of wheat in this country. The bureau statement of wheat remaining in first hands March 1, showed 37,598,534 bushels in ten states—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. There has not been much inducement since that date to sell wheat grown in those states, while the quantity held over in the great wheat growing states of the west, and in California and Oregon, must have been large. It is a remarkable fact, too, that while commercial boards take great pains to get a well nigh useless statement of "visible supply," so called —wheat at a few points—no effort is made to ascertain the quantity of flour on hand and unconsumed. Of the two, the latter item would be more important, but a statement of "visible" wheat, without the flour, is not worth the trouble taken to obtain it.

The obvious cause of the unnaturally low price of wheat all over the world is the extraordinary increase in railroad and ship building within the past few years. Railroads here and in India have multiplied wheat growing acres. The cheap ships of these days have brought the most distant acres into direct competition.

A Chicago View.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The great business sensation of the year in two hemispheres and three continents is the low price of wheat, the great cash crop of the farmers of the west, England and the Punjab. Wheat has not in fourteen years before sold so cheaply in Chicago as lately. It has not been so cheap in England for 100 years. Speculators who bought wheat in June on the alluring predictions of the clique, who promised with the help of the banks to put up the price, have by this time lost on all they have held not less than 35 cents a bushel, including all carrying charges. All the statisticians, political economists, and betters are trying to cipher out the speed and direction of the new current in the breadstuffs market, and bankers and business men are at fault in their calculations for the future until they can see clearly whether the new prices are mere flotsam on an ebb tide, to be succeeded by a returning tide of old-fashioned prices, or the register of a permanently lower level.

The surplus is the great bugbear. Believing that there is "too much wheat," sellers rush into the market to compete with each other in offering buyers larger and larger bushels for smaller and smaller dollars. This stampede toward the bottom is as sure, according to all principles of human nature, to carry the crowd too far in that direction as the stampede toward the top is to carry them too high. In both movements the gregarious herd lose sight of the compensatory forces that are set in action to counteract the extreme tendencies which they are following out. The high prices into which the markets rush on account of a slight shortage create surplus by the economy in consumption which they compel; the low prices that are caused by "too much wheat,"

ENCOURAGE THE CONSUMPTION

That eats up all there is and cries for more. Those who are trying to disentangle the lasting facts of the wheat situation from the babel of bull and bear outcries on the floors of the exchanges, and the mutually destructive figures of experts, have a difficult task.

A broader survey of the causes of low wheat we find in a circular sent out to his customers a few days ago by one of the most experienced brokers on the board of trade. This observer points out that the Keene and other corners taught the foreign buyers to pursue a hand-to-mouth policy. They found that to lay in heavy supplies according to their old way was unnecessary that with electric cables and steam transportation wheat in the elevator at Chicago was as much at their command as if they held it in the warehouses at home. Hence,

AMERICAN CAPITAL MUST CARRY

The American surplus. Again, the invention of the twine binder has made wheat growing possible on a larger scale, and has cheapened its production possibly as much as five cents a bushel. Then, the costs that intervene in the transfer of the wheat between the producer and consumer are so great that the tendency to leave it in the hands of the farmer until it is wanted is constantly increasing. These costs are summed up in the circular as follows: The railroads charge on an average thirty cents per bushel to carry wheat from the producer to the seaboard, the elevators charge fifteen cents per bushel, the insurance companies 2 cents, and the bankers 6 cents per bushel—in all 53 cents for holding grain over one crop. But the world is always within less than one year of starvation, and within less than two or three years of being naked. The surplus which we had on hand this year on the eve of sending our reapers into the harvest fields was not enough to feed the people of this country four months, to say nothing about seed for the next crop or the supply of the needs of St. Giles and the Quartier Latin. Fat years are succeeded by lean years. It may be that

THE OPENING OF NEW WHEAT AREAS,

The concentration of the surplus of all the wheat areas on every point of demand, the cheapening by inventions of the cost of production, and—a cause that is not to be slighted—the steadying effect of speculation enlarged by the world wide facilities offered by the great exchanges—may, all taken together, reduce the average quotation of wheat a few cents a bushel permanently. The average quotation in Chicago for twenty-four years has been, in specie, 97 cents a bushel. That may have to be reduced to an average of 90 cents. But present values are not normal. They represent the panic of sellers, real and speculative. The bent now will surely spring back. Looking ahead, by generations, we can see that with the westward wheat line of this country, pushed up against the sand beaches of the Pacific ocean, and with the wheat growing soft on the older farms, it is impossible that there should be "too much wheat."

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY, Sept. 5.

The forenoon gave every promise of clearing weather, but the afternoon brought slight showers and cloudy skies. The eastern section notes cloudy weather without rain. Word comes from Yamhill county that many farmers have yet 15 to 20 per cent. of their crop to harvest. Some grain is so backward as not to be in condition for cutting. While the average of valley grain yet standing or to be threshed is believed to be less than 15 per cent. of the crop, yet the conclusion is forced that some must be ruined as far as regards its fitness for wheat. It can be put to other uses and greatly lessen the total loss. Present weather is destined to work the greatest loss among the hop yards. Of course the loss of wheat greatly depends upon succeeding weather, as that yet standing is able to withstand some rain and that cut can largely be saved for the thresher.

Overland receipts include 60 cases lemons, 1 case cigars, 12 packages tobacco, 2 kegs, 7 boxes nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 4608 ctls wheat, 294 bbls flour, 105 ctls bran, 52 ctls millstuff, 20,235 lbs wool, 1500 lbs hides, 18 cs eggs, 93 bxs fruit, 3 pkgs butter. Also 6510 ctls wheat, 159 lbs hides from the eastern section.

WHEAT—Freight advices to-day are less firm and quotations are off. Home markets are generally easier. The local market remains inactive and largely nominal. Receipts show some increase, but include much on consignment. Two firms sent wheat to San Francisco by the last steamer.

Of the wheat crop of Great Britain it has been remarked that "the wheat crop of the United Kingdom in 1884 is now placed at probably 80,000,000 bushels, from 2,600,000 acres, or an average yield per acre of thirty-two bushels. The crop of 1883 was about 64,000,000 bushels. This indicates that the United Kingdom requirements of foreign wheat will be in 1884-5 about 25,600,000 bushels less than for 1883-4. The quality of the United Kingdom wheat crop of 1884 promises to be fine. The new wheat is immediately suitable for milling, for which home sorts are in general favor. When the home grown wheat of the United Kingdom shall have become generally available for millers' use, the demand for foreign wheat will probably be checked. This seems to point to flatter markets than are at present ruling."

OATS—Stocks in first hands are again cleaned up. As a quotation 29@30c is given, but 32c and even 35c is deemed possible just at this time.

MEATS—Stocks of eastern show some reduction and values are firm. No local hams and bacon in stock and none offering.

POTATOES—Slow at 40@50c per cental. The request is met without difficulty. Sweets 2¾c.

CHICKENS—Best spring bring $3; old steady at $5@6.

EGGS—Arrivals past two days show some decrease and the market is firmer at 22½c.

SHIPPING NOTES.

During August seven vessels entered at Port Townsend from foreign ports and two from San Francisco to sail foreign. Two of the entries loaded and sailed in the month. Two came seeking, including the Norwegian bark Coronal from Hohodadi.

During August three vessels sailed foreign from Puget sound with lumber. Two were barks and one schooner, all American. They carried 1,325,731 ft rough, 98,000 ft surfaced and 159,250 ft tongue and grooved lumber, 105,000 shingles, 40,000 laths and 40 000 pickets, all of the value of $18,475. Two went to Honolulu and one to Mahukona. Port Blakeley, Tacoma and Bellingham bay each furnished a cargo.

The Coos Bay, for San Francisco and way ports, and the Walla Walla, for Seattle, crossed out to-day.

The Windhover has arrived at Queenstown with a cargo of Walla Walla wheat from San Francisco.

The Truth About La Camas

Its that it is the only place in the Northwest unaffected by the present dull times;

Its magnificent water power and fine location, backed by its large capital, must make it always near is now, the liveliest town in the Northwest;

Its people are principally new men from the East, who have brought large capital and abundant enterprise with them;

It is the best place in all this country for new comers to make a start in business or to get work;

It is not a real estate speculation, and has no real estate boomers;

It costs only $1 (for the round trip) and a few hours' time to go and see it.

Take the steamer "Traveler" at the foot of Morrison street, Portland, at 2:30 P. M. daily.

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure,

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

WOLFE'S

Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps.

As a general beverage, necessary corrective of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as limestone, sulphate of copper, etc., the AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. A public trial of over thirty years' duration, in every section of our country, of UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS, its unsolicited endorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation for salubrity claimed for it. For sale by all druggists and grocers.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Difficult Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH, such as Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence. Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances. Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Disease, Skin Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—Nos. 132 and 134 Third street, corner of Alder, opposite Masonic Hall.

Office Hours—10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of profession or business must be addressed to Dr. Paul M. Brenan & Co., Portland, Or.

IS THERE TOO MUCH WHEAT?

Good Authorities Say that the Surplus is Not Large—And that the Staple will Regain Considerably Higher Values—Information from New York.

New York Tribune.

A letter published by you February 9 closed in these words: "Hence it would seem probable that about 76,000,000 bushels (of wheat) would remain July 1 to be carried over to another year." This estimate, made by me over six months ago, differed only 445,035 bushels from the most accurate statement that can be made with the final official statistics of the last crop year before me. I am indebted to Mr. Nimmo, chief of the bureau of statistics, for personal information of the exports and imports during the last fiscal year, the publication of these most valuable statistics having been most stupidly stopped by an act of congress at the last session. The quantities and values are as follows:

	Exports		Imports.
	Domestic.	Foreign.
Flour, bbls	9,151,269	259	1,870
Wheat, bushels	70,349,012	100,995	24,329
Flour, value	$51,131,606	$1,395	$8,251
Wheat, value	75,062,078	103,749	23,920

At four and a half bushels of wheat to the barrel of flour, the excess of exports over imports was equivalent to 111,632,153 bushels of wheat, against 145,918,947 during the previous fiscal year. The official figures of acreage, yield, and exports, were given in my letter of February 8 for sixteen years, and it was there shown that the average consumption for food had been 4417 bushels yearly for 1000 inhabitants. At the beginning of the last fiscal year, upon the estimates previously given, the population of the country was 55,325,079. Adding 2 per cent increase, and the actual immigration for the year, 599,834, we have 56,942,332 as the best estimate that can be made of the population June 30, 1884. The mean of these numbers, 56,134,155, is the consuming population for the crop year, and at the rate given above the consumption for food and the arts would be 247,944,582 bushels. According to bureau reports of acreage, the consumption for seed was about 52,000,000 bushels. Thus the net exports and the consumption for food and the arts and for seed, from the crop of 1883, amount to 411,409,120 bushels.

Now the letter already mentioned showed that 65,877,155 bushels of wheat were probably in the country at the beginning of the crop year, being left over from the crop of 1882. The final official statement of the yield in 1883 is 421,086,160 bushels. This gives a total supply of 486,963,315 bushels, and deducting the exports and consumption, as above stated, we have as the quantity of wheat probably remaining in the country July 1, unconsumed and unsold, 75,554,195 bushels. My estimate February 8 was that 76,000,000 bushels would remain.

THE COURSE OF THE MARKET

Has been such as to justify the suggestion made six months ago. The price of No. 2 red winter wheat at New York, February 8, was $1 07½. With great effort the powerful clique managed to raise it to $1 09, February 11, but it then receded and closed for the month at $1 03; in March it closed at $1 01, and April 5 it dropped to 96c. Another clique then made a great effort, and, with banks helping, the price reached $1 11½ at the end of April. But the banks discovered in May that they had been boosting speculation of various kinds too much. The closing price for May was $1 01½, and the price dropped to 93½c. June 9. Though it recovered to 95½c at the end of that month, and staggered through July at about that figure, it dropped August 13 to 89c bid, and it is no longer a question, as it was said to be six months ago, whether there was a deficiency of 60,000,000 bushels in the world's supply of wheat for 1883-84.

As to the crop of 1884, estimates are not yet particularly trustworthy. None doubt, however, that it is a very large crop, and if it exceeds 504,000,000 bushels, the largest crop yet grown, no one will be surprised. Comparisons of state reports with those of the agricultural bureau, with due allowance for the known idiosyncrasies of each, inclines one to think that the crop may prove the largest ever raised, say 330,000,000 bushels winter and 155,000,000 spring wheat, but if some of the state reports prove reliable, it will even exceed that quantity. In an article July 26, the London Economist showed that

In England during the first half of 1884 had been lower than for any year since in 1780, and only 1s 8d per quarter above the extraordinary record of that far-off year. Present indications are that the abundant supplies on both sides of the ocean will cause very low prices this fall, so that the British average for the year may be nearly or quite the lowest for a century. Last year interested parties created a general but most unfounded expectation that there would be a deficiency, and such an expectation, with moderate or high prices ruling, tends to prevent expansion or consumption much above the average. But the price has now declined so far that, if it is not artificially lifted, a material increase of consumption, both in this and other countries, seems likely to result. Only by such an increase can the farmers be saved from loss through accumulation of wheat in this country. The bureau statement of wheat remaining in first hands March 1, showed 37,608,534 bushels in ten states—New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. There has not been much inducement since that date to sell wheat grown in those states, while the quantity held over in the great wheat growing states of the west, and in California and Oregon, must have been large. It is a remarkable fact, too, that while commercial boards take great pains to get a well nigh useless statement of "visible supply," so called—wheat at a few points—no effort is made to ascertain the quantity of flour on hand and unconsumed. Of the two, the latter item would be more important, but a statement of "visible" wheat, without the flour, is not worth the trouble taken to obtain it.

The obvious cause of the unnaturally low price of wheat all over the world is the extraordinary increase in railroad and ship building within the past few years. Railroads here and in India have multiplied wheat growing areas. The cheap ships of these days have brought the most distant acres into direct competition.

A Chicago View.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The great business sensation of the year in two hemispheres and three continents is the low price of wheat, the great cash crop of the farmers of the west, England and the Punjab. Wheat has not in fourteen years before sold so cheaply in Chicago as lately. It has not been so cheap in England for 100 years. Speculators who bought wheat in June on the alluring predictions of the clique, who promised with the help of the banks to put up the price have by this time lost on all they have held not less than 55 cents a bushel, including all carrying charges. All the statisticians, political economists, and betters are trying to cipher out the speed and direction of the new current in the breadstuffs market, and bankers and business men are at fault in their calculations for the future until they can see clearly whether the new prices are mere flotsam on an ebb tide, to be succeeded by a returning tide of old-fashioned prices, or the register of a permanently lower level.

The surplus is the great bugbear. Believing that there is "too much wheat," sellers rush into the market to compete with each other in offering buyers larger and larger bushels for smaller and smaller dollars. This stampede toward the bottom is as sure, according to all principles of human nature, to carry the crowd too far in that direction as the stampede toward the top is to carry them too high. In both movements the gregarious herd lose sight of the compensatory forces that are set in action to counteract the extreme tendencies which they are following out. The high prices into which the markets rush on account of a slight shortage create surplus by the economy in consumption which they compel; the low prices that are caused by "too much wheat."

ENCOURAGE THE CONSUMPTION

That eats up all there is and cries for more. Those who are trying to disentangle the lasting facts of the wheat situation from the babel of bull and bear oratories on the floors of the exchanges, and the mutually destructive figures of experts, have a difficult task.

A broader survey of the causes of low wheat we find in a circular sent out to his customers a few days ago by one of the most experienced brokers on the board of trade. This observer points out that the Keene and other corners taught the foreign buyers to pursue a hand-to-mouth policy. They found that to lay in heavy supplies according to their old way was unnecessary; that with electric cables and steam transportation wheat in the elevator at Chicago was as much at their command as if they held it in the warehouse at home. Hence,

AMERICAN CAPITAL MUST CARRY

The American surplus. Again, the invention of the twine binder has made wheat growing possible on a larger scale, and has cheapened its production possibly as much as five cents a bushel. Then, the costs that intervene in the transfer of the wheat between the producer and consumer are so great that the tendency to leave it in the hands of the farmer until it is wanted is constantly increasing. These costs are summed up in the circular as follows: The railroads charge on an average thirty cents per bushel to carry wheat from the producer to the seaboard, the elevators charge fifteen cents per bushel, the insurance companies 2 cents, and the bankers 6 cents per bushel—in all 53 cents for holding grain over one crop. But the world is always within less than one year of starvation, and within less than two or three years of being naked. The surplus which we had on hand this year on the eve of sending our reapers into the harvest fields was not enough to feed the people of this country four months, to say nothing about seed for the next crop or the supply of the needs of St. Giles and the Quartier Latin. Fat years are succeeded by lean years. It may be that

THE OPENING OF NEW WHEAT AREAS,

The concentration of the surplus of all the wheat areas on every point of demand, the cheapening by inventions of the cost of production, and—a cause that is not to be slighted—the steadying effect of speculation enlarged by the world wide facilities offered by the great exchanges—may, all taken together, reduce the average quotation of wheat a few cents a bushel permanently. The average quotation in Chicago for twenty-four years has been, in specie, 97 cents a bushel. That may have to be reduced to an average of 80 cents. But present values are not normal. They represent the panic of sellers, real and speculative. The bent bow will surely spring back. Looking ahead, by generations, we can see that with the westward wheat line of this country, pushed up against the sand beaches of the Pacific ocean, and with the wheat growing soil on the older farms, it is impossible that there should be "too much wheat."

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FRIDAY, Sept. 5.

The forenoon gave every promise of clearing weather, but the afternoon brought slight showers and cloudy skies. The eastern section notes cloudy weather without rain. Word comes from Yamhill county that many farmers have yet 15 to 20 per cent. of their crop to harvest. Some grain is so backward as not to be in condition for cutting. While the average of valley grain yet standing or to be threshed is believed to be less than 15 per cent. of the crop, yet the conclusion is forced that some must be ruined as far as regards its fitness for wheat. It can be put to other uses and greatly lessen the total loss. Present weather is destined to work the greatest loss among the hop yards. Of course the loss of wheat greatly depends upon succeeding weather, as that yet standing is able to withstand some rain and that cut can largely be saved for the thresher.

Overland receipts include 60 cases lemons, 1 case cigars, 12 packages tobacco, 2 kegs, 7 boxes nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past 24 hours: 4038 ctls wheat, 294 bbls flour, 105 ctls bran, 52 ctls millstuff, 10,235 lbs wool, 1500 lbs hides, 18 cs eggs, 93 bxs fruit, 3 pkgs butter. Also 8570 ctls wheat, 150 lbs hides from the eastern section.

IMPORTS—Per steamer State of California, from San Francisco: 612 hf 256 bbls 210 sks 75 bxs 114 kgs sugar, 90 cs 150 kgs syrup, 8 bbls 37 cs 252 sks coffee, 90 sks 637 mats rice, 60 sks salt, 123 pkgs tea, 35 kgs 13 cs pickles, 30 sks beans, 1054 cs canned goods, 9 bbls 2 bls meal, 5 cs sauce, 1 cte starch, 5 cs yeast powder, 7 cs cream tartar, 15 cs extract, 4 cses chocolate, 50 cs soda and saleratus, 21 cs paste, 699 bxs soap, 57 cs candles, 200 cs ax grease, 2 cs blue, 1 cs lye, 6 cs sardines, 40 pkgs spice, 53 cs baking powder, 3 cs mustard, 286 tins matches, 15 cs candy, 14 sks 3 bxs nuts, 4 hf 10 bbls vinegar, 3 cs codfish, 1 bx prunes, 10 kgs herring, 1 bbl hams, 9 cs lard, 17 cs bacon, 114 pkgs raisins, 67 sks dried peaches, 310 sks corn, 49 cs honey, 10 cs cheese, 6 cs butter, 6 bxs oranges, 10 bxs bananas, 13 cs lemons, 7 cs limes, 421 bxs fruits, 70 ctes melons, 58 bxs peaches, 190 bxs grapes, 113 sks sweets, 562 sks malt, 400 sks barley, 128 sks coal, 3d hf 42 bls bags, 41 cls rope, 3 bxs 5 kgs nails, 70 pkgs tobacco, 68 cs cigars, 10 cs pearl barley.

WHEAT—Freight advices to-day are less firm and quotations are off. Home markets are generally easier. The local market remains inactive and largely nominal. Receipts show some increase, but include much on consignment. Two firms sent wheat to San Francisco by the last steamer.

Of the wheat crop of Great Britain it has been remarked that "the wheat crop of the United Kingdom in 1884 is now placed at probably 80,000,000 bushels, from 2,600,000 acres, or an average yield per acre of thirty-two bushels. The crop of 1883 was about 64,000,000 bushels. This indicates that the United Kingdom requirements of foreign wheat will be in 1884-5 about 25,600,000 bushels less than for 1883-4. The quality of the United Kingdom wheat crop of 1884 promises to be fine. The new wheat is immediately suitable for milling, for which home sorts are in general favor. When the home grown wheat of the United Kingdom shall have become generally available for millers' use, the demand for foreign wheat will probably be checked. This seems to point to flatter markets than are at present ruling."

OATS—Stocks in first hands are again cleaned up. As a quotation 28@30c is given, but 32c and even 33c is deemed possible just at this time.

MEATS—Stocks of eastern show some reduction and values are firm. No local hams and bacon in stock and none offering.

POTATOES—Slow at 40@50c per cental. The request is met without difficulty. Sweets 2½c.

CHICKENS—Best spring bring $3; old steady at $5@6.

EGGS—Arrivals past two days show some decrease and the market is firmer at 27½c.

SHIPPING NOTES.

During August seven vessels entered at Port Townsend from foreign ports and two from San Francisco to sail foreign. Two of the entries loaded and sailed in the month. Two came seeking, including the Norwegian bark Coronal from Hakodadi.

During August three vessels sailed foreign from Puget sound with lumber. Two were barks and one schooner, all American. They carried 1,525,751 ft rough, 98,000 ft surfaced and 159,250 ft tongue and grooved lumber, 105,000 shingles, 40,000 laths and 40,000 pickets, all of the value of $18,475. Two went to Honolulu and one to Mahukona. Port Blakeley, Tacoma and Bellingham bay each furnished a cargo.

The Coos Bay, for San Francisco and way ports, and the Walla Walla, for Seattle, crossed out to-day.

The Windhover has arrived at Queenstown with a cargo of Walla Walla wheat from San Francisco.

The Truth About La Camas.

It is the only place in the Northwest unaffected by the present dull times.

Its magnificent water power and its fine location, backed by its large capital, must make it always as it is now, the liveliest town in the Northwest.

Its people are principally new men from the East, who have brought large capital and abundant enterprise with them.

It is the best place in all this country for new comers to make a start in business or to get work.

It is not a real estate speculation, and has no real estate boom.

It costs only $1 (for the round trip) and a few hours' time to go and see it.

Take the steamer "Traveler" at the foot of Morrison street, Portland, at 2:30 P. M. daily.

An Efficient Remedy

In all cases of Bronchial and Pulmonary Affections is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families, for the past forty years, it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a cold or cough will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons, by arresting the development of Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, and Pulmonary Consumption, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of Croup, the alleviation of Whooping Cough, and the cure of Colds and Influenza, ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but take at once the speediest and most certain to cure,

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect

ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps.

As a general beverage, necessary corrective of water rendered impure by vegetable decomposition or other causes, as limestone, sulphate of copper, etc., the AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is superior to every other alcoholic preparation. A public trial of over thirty years' duration in every section of our country of UDOLPHO WOLFE'S SCHNAPPS, its unsolicited indorsement by the medical faculty, and a sale unequaled by any other alcoholic distillation, have insured for it the reputation for salubrity claimed for it. For sale by all Druggists and Grocers.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

IS THE MOST SUCCESSFUL PHYSICIAN ON the Pacific coast in the treatment of all Chronic and Private Diseases of the Sexual Organs.

He will guarantee to cure any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease, if the patient follows his advice and treatment.

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the FOLLIES OF YOUTH, such as Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the chronic diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by a majority of the Medical Profession.

Persons afflicted by any form of sexual disease or weakness often delay in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitution becomes corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence. Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances. Lost manhood perfectly restored.

Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint and all diseases of the Liver and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail, if they are curable, and if not, he will tell you so.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

Office—Nos. 132 and 134 Third street, corner of Alder, opposite Masonic Hall.

Office Hours—10 to 12 A. M., 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 P. M.

All letters of professional business must be addressed to Dr. Paul M. Brenan & Co., Portland, Or.

DR. FELIX LE BRUN'S G AND G

Preventive and Cure for either Sex.

This remedy being injected directly to the seat of those diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs, requires no change of diet or nauseous, mercurial or poisonous medicines to be taken internally. When used as a preventive by either sex, it is impossible to contract any venereal disease; but in the case of those already unfortunately afflicted we guarantee three boxes to cure, or we will refund the money. Price by mail, postage paid, $2.00 per box, or three boxes for $5.00. Written guarantees issued by all authorized agents.

Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

This BELT or Regenerator is made expressly for the cure of derangements of the generative organs. There is no mistake about this instrument, the continuous stream of ELECTRICITY permeating through the parts must restore them to healthy action. Do not confound this with Electric Belts advertised to cure all ills from head to toe. It is for the one specific purpose.

For circulars giving full information, address Cheever Electric Belt Co., 103 Washington st., Chicago, Ill.
